<sup>1</sup> There is one application for RAFT, ERMA, and ERAP. Eligibility for a program is determined by household income levels and program requirements. Households with incomes < 50% AMI or < 60% AMI for people at risk of homelessness because of domestic violence may be eligible for RAFT. Households within 50% - 80% AMI may be eligible for ERMA. Households with incomes < 80% AMI may be eligible for ERAP.

<sup>3</sup> As noted above, there is one application for RAFT, ERMA, and ERAP. Data is not currently available indicating if an application is for rental assistance or mortgage assistance.

<sup>4</sup> Defined as the number of new applications received during the month. Note, applications reported as approved, denied, or closed due to lack of information or documentation within a given month are not necessarily a subset of new applications received during that month. Processed applications may have been submitted in a previous month.

<sup>5</sup> Applications are processed in accordance with DHCD's close out policy and may be reopened at the applicant's request.

<sup>6</sup> Defined as number of households that were newly approved for and received an ERAP payment this month.

<sup>7</sup> Households receiving ERAP assistance may be approved for more than one eligible use.
